Antioch Will Oppose Grayslake Fri. Night, Beats Richmond 48-38

Tough Game on Rams Court Expected by Varsity, Not by Sophs

Antioch Township High school will return to conference play in basketball tomorrow evening when both the varsity and sophomore teams will meet Grayslake teams on the Rams floor.

It will be a tough game for the Sequoia varsity which although having lost no games in the conference, will be meeting a team that so far this year has averaged 60.5 points a game.

This type of shooting was not evidenced last Friday by Antioch although the Sequoia managed to beat Richmond 48 to 38. Of 39 shots under the basket the local team made only about one-fourth of the baskets.

On the other hand Richmond made 20 of a possible 23 free throws. The score at the end of the quarter was a tie 10-10, and at the half Antioch led 19 to 17. The Sequoia went out ahead in the third quarter which gave them a margin of safety despite the fact that Richmond battled them on even terms in the last periods.

Bob Floyd led the victors in scoring with 12 points, nine of them in the final period. Larry Lass was effective at the backboard and made three field goals.

Lennie Jackson of Richmond was high man for the evening with four field goals and seven free throws for a total of 15 points.

In the preliminary game the frosh-soph team of Antioch ran up a 21-2 lead in the first quarter and then coasted through to a 59 to 38 victory over the Richmond underclassmen. Mike Haviland was high point man for Antioch with 13 points and Ron Miller was high for Richmond with the same number.

The Antioch sophs don't expect much trouble in defeating Grayslake.

The Richmond game returned the Sequoia to the victory column after having lost their first game of the season at Zion.

James A. Gray, 78, Buried Monday

James A. Gray, 78, a retired Lake County farmer, died Friday in Victory Memorial hospital, Waukegan, after a brief illness.

Born in Bloomington, Mr. Gray had lived in Lake county, farming near Antioch, for 43 years. He retired in 1938, and at the time of his death was living with a daughter, Mrs. Gerald Nighsonger, at Zion.

Mr. Gray was a member of St. Anastasia Catholic church and of the Holy Name society of that parish. He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Arthur Coon and Mrs. Carl Christien, both of Waukegan, and Mrs. Nighsonger; three sons, Francis, James and William, all of Waukegan; 11 grandchildren, and ten great-grandchildren. His wife, Martha, died last March.

Services were conducted at 10 a. m. Monday in St. Anastasia church, and burial was in Ascension cemetery.

Water Well and Zoning Deferred by Trustees

Because the new zoning and building ordinance wasn't ready and Engineer David Miller was not present to advise them on the new water well, the village board transacted routine matters only and adjourned early Tuesday evening. It is expected that a special meeting will be called to tackle the two matters in the near future.

Antioch Rescue Squad Received Five Calls During Day on Sunday

The Antioch Rescue Squad had one of its busiest days in years Sunday.

Almost simultaneously came calls from Loon Lake and Lake Villa, and in the case of the first mentioned the squad found Joseph Karvesek already dead from a heart attack and in the other, Captain Herman Holbek was able to give aid to a 3-year-old child of Al Sorenson, proprietor of the Shell station, who suffered from convulsions. The child recovered.

The squad, notified by police of the sickness of Louis Pierson, arrived too late to revive him, but in the case of Fred Techert of Loon Lake they were able to give assistance.

The first call was at Grass and Petite Lake roads where four persons were hurt in an automobile collision, and were given medical treatment in Antioch.

Rent Controls for Entire County are In Force Jan. 6th

Landlords Must Register All Rental Property By Feb. 20

With the establishment Tuesday of the full critical area type of rent stabilization program throughout Lake county, Illinois, virtually all types of rental housing accommodations in the county are now under control and subject to federal rent ceilings and the eviction provisions of the rent law.

Units in hotels in the critical area, rooms in private homes, rooms in rooming or boarding houses, trailers, trailer space, motor courts, tourist homes, residence clubs, and dormitories are all under control as well as regular houses and apartments.

According to Harold B. Jacobson, rent director at Waukegan who has jurisdiction over the critical area, a decision is expected shortly from the national Office of Rent Stabilization in Washington on a recommendation made by the Lake county rent advisory board asking that rent control be removed from Lake Bluff, Lake Forest, and Highland Park.

"The highest rent that may be charged for rental housing units already under control when the area was certified as critical on September 28 is the rent presently established as the legal maximum rent," Jacobson explained.

"On housing units coming under control, now, as a result of the critical designation," he continued, "such as new construction, rooms in hotels, units previously decontrolled by reason of conversion, etc., the highest rent that may be charged is the rent that was in effect on August 1, 1952."

The only exception to the August 1, 1952 maximum rent for a newly controlled unit would be where the landlord raised the rent between August 1, 1952 and January 6, 1953 because of a major capital improvement, or an increase in service, space, or equipment, the rent director pointed out.

"In cases like that," Jacobson explained, "the landlord may collect the first rent charge to reflect the change. He will be required to list both the higher rent and the rent actually charged last August 1 when he registers the property."

The increased rental will be subject to rent office review and may be reduced upon recommendation of the local volunteer rent advisory board if it is excessive.

The federal rent law requires that all rental housing units in Lake county be registered within forty-five days after the effective date of critical area control, making February 20 the deadline date for registration.

Registration forms are available at the area rent office, 325 W. Washington street, Waukegan. They may be secured by mail, telephone, or personal visit to the office where trained personnel will assist landlords in filling out the necessary forms.

Four Hurt in Head-on Car Crash on Grass Lake Road Sunday

Three Antioch residents and a resident of Lake Villa were injured in a head-on collision of cars at Grass Lake and Petite Lake roads Sunday morning.

Sheriff's Deputies Hugh Kennedy and Albert Weinberger said that Mrs. Elsie Geeraerts, 68, Lake Villa was driving west on Grass Lake road and collided almost head-on with the east-bound car of Mrs. Rosalind Keating, 41, of Antioch.

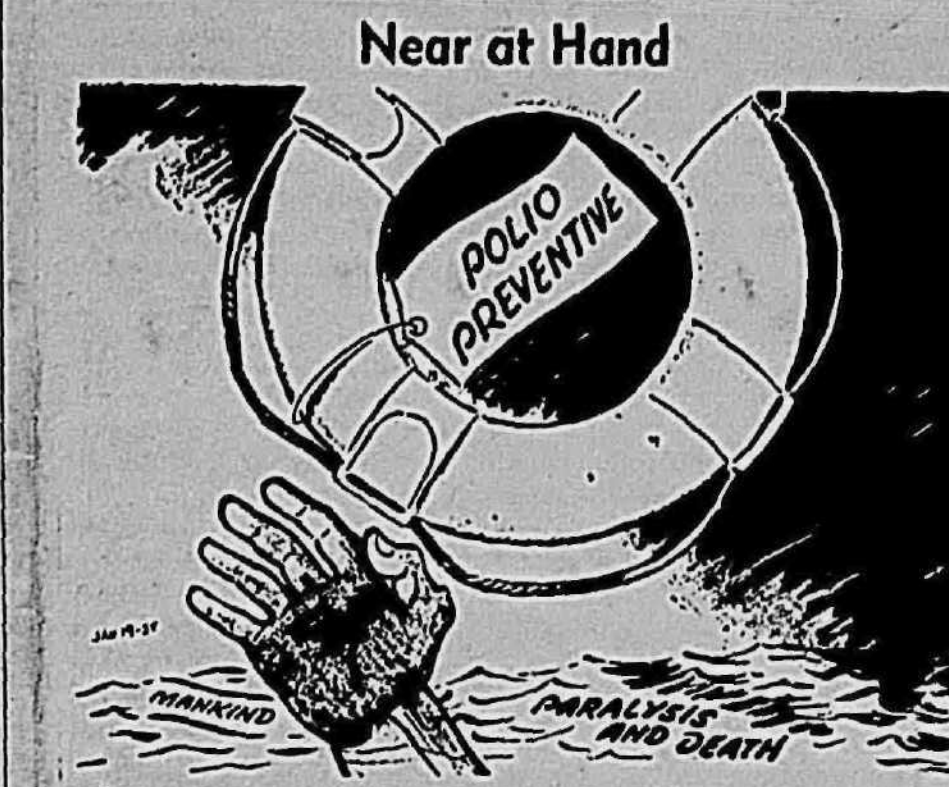

The injured as the result of the accident were Mrs. Geeraerts, knee and leg injuries; Mrs. Keating, lacerated head, knee and chest injuries; Lynette Keating, 21, head, arm, and shoulder injuries; and Sharon Keating, 15, left wrist, head, and knee injuries.

The injured persons were taken by the Antioch Rescue squad to the Antioch clinic for treatment and Mrs. Keating was later taken to Victory Memorial hospital at Waukegan where she still was under treatment yesterday.

Both drivers maintained they were in their proper lanes.

Mrs. Keating is worthy matron of the Antioch chapter, Order of Eastern Star.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Morris had as guests New Year's eve Mr. and Mrs. Lee Morris of Harvey and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Venema of Wilmette.

$46,919 Receipts at Antioch Postoffice During Year of 1952

Postal receipts at the Antioch office for 1952 fell just $81 short of the $47,000 mark, but the amount was enough to insure the office a first class rating July 1, Postmaster Roy I. Kufalk said.

Kufalk said that the co-operation on the part of Antioch citizens in mailing early helped the staff to make a good record this year despite the fact that much of the mail had to be transferred from a nearby garage where it was worked to the office.

Last year at Christmas there were 5,000 post cards still not worked, but this year, despite the heavy load one day of 20,000 pieces, all mail was dispatched at the end of each day.

Postmaster Kufalk said that more experienced help this year accounted for some of the efficiency.

Louis J. Pierson, 55, Dies Suddenly of Heart Attack Sunday

Louis J. Pierson, 55, 876 Hillside avenue, died suddenly of a heart attack Sunday, Jan. 4, at his home. He was born Oct. 27, 1897 in Chicago, moving to Antioch in 1946. Funeral services were held Wednesday at 9:30 a. m. at the Strang funeral home, and at 10:00 a. m. at St. Peter's church. Interment was in Mt. Carmel cemetery.

Cooper Recovers from Attack William Cooper of Linden lane suffered an attack at his home Tuesday evening, but soon recovered. Friends called the Antioch Rescue squad but its aid was not needed.

Memorial Gifts To Rescue Squad Make A Sizable Amount

Contributions to the Antioch Rescue squad in memory of the late Henry Quedenfeld, Jr., former member of the squad who was killed in a tragic automobile accident Nov. 11, after the dedication party at the new squad home, have totalled many hundreds of dollars, according to the members of the Lions Club Rescue squad fund committee.

Friends were asked by the Quedenfeld family to omit flowers and rather make a donation to the squad fund, which was of major interest to the deceased for many years.

A part of those who have marked a donation to the fund in this manner follows:

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Strang, Mr. and Mrs. John McGaughey, Employers and Driver of Gurnee I.G.A., Mr. and Mrs. John Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Rockow, Mr. and Mrs. Xavier Schimmel, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Strang, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Strang, Miss Mabel Brogan, Mrs. Margaret Roof, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Bartlett, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Pettigree, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Conway, James Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Bell, Mrs. W. ## Addition at R & J Chevrolet Complete

A 30x50 ft. addition, which has been under construction at R & J Chevrolet sales for the past month is now complete. The new building, located directly behind the automotive shop, will house the extensive parts room which has been located partly in the showroom.

The addition will allow use of more floor space in the shops for service work and will also provide room in the display room for two more cars. Work has been rushed to completion by William Gray and Homer La Plant, contractors, in order to finish in time for display of the new Chevrolets, Friday, January 9.

Regular Trips from Channel Lake Here To Begin Jan. 13

Transportation to Antioch from the Channel Lake area, lacking entirely since the Cardinal lines gave up its franchise some years ago, will be started Tuesday, January 13, when the Antioch Cab Service, operated by Fred Pierce, will begin making regular trips from the Channel lake area into Antioch.

The initial schedule calls for service on Tuesdays and Thursdays only, but more trips will be made if the demand makes it necessary. The first service will pick up passengers at Lake avenue, beginning at 10:00 a. m., with stops at The Silo, Myers Grocery, B2B Tavern, Hess Grocery, Cox's Corners, and the California Resort. A return trip will begin at 2:00.

Sponsors of the move point out that while the program is not ambitious, that it is at least a start in the right direction. Members of the Chamber of Commerce committee on transportation feel that Antioch and the region has long been hampered by the lack of public transportation, and that this move to start in a small way may be the solution.

Service to other parts of the Lake region has been discussed, but it was decided to limit the first venture to the Channel Lake area, and that service to other localities would be instituted if the first service attracts enough riders to make it worth while.

It is felt that the bus lines which operated here in the past have failed, in the main, because of the large equipment which they operated, and that smaller equipment, less costly to operate, might be able to operate at a profit.

NIMCO Corporation Seeks Liquidation

Northern Illinois Manufacturing company, organized in February 1951, for the purpose of securing government defense contracts, is insolvent, according to advice from the company, and seeks to liquidate assets and surrender its charter.

Letters to creditors ask that the company be allowed to execute assignment of interest as an alternative to placing the company in bankruptcy, and adds that the company is completely inactive and will surrender its charter immediately upon complete liquidation.

The company was managed by William M. Dusek, Lake Catherine, a former associate in the Gres-Engine corporation, which was engaged in the manufacture of light gasoline engines. The NIMCO corporation was organized after failure of the Gres-Engine corporation, and purchased most of the equipment of that company.

Reasons for the failure of NIMCO to successfully continue were given as "inferior equipment, high maintenance costs, and attempts to develop defense contracts."

The liquidation will be a total loss to the stockholders, with a possible payment to unsecured creditors of one-fourth of the amount of their claims, according to the letter from officers of the company.

Charles Meyer Dies After 2-Year Illness; Funeral Held Monday

Law Is Force

Last November the American people demanded, with an avalanche of votes, far-reaching changes in the current policies, attitudes, and philosophy of their government.

It will take courage and vision to support these changes—for if we are to return to our traditional principles of self reliance and individual responsibility there will have to be an end to the reckless federal "give away" policy that has characterized the past 20 years. No longer can the federal government be regarded as a perpetual and limitless source of "aid" and "relief" and "security" for any group, for any region, for any individual.

Anyone can cite the tremendous problems we must deal with—the Korean war; the menace of internal and external communism; the still-present threat of more inflation; the killing tax burden, and so on down the list.

But there is another great underlying problem. It is found in the way we have come to depend on ever-growing government to resolve all our difficulties, to protect us against all the exigencies of life from birth to death—and to make more and more of the decisions that we used to make for ourselves. The manner in which this problem is finally solved will decide whether we are to remain a free people, or are to drift farther down the road whose dead-end is servitude and tyranny, and a world in which the individual has neither rights nor dignity, and in which the state alone is important.

We have long worked on the theory that a "law" is a magician's wand, a potential source of infinite miracles. The wand is waved, a legislative act is passed, and a goal is reached. That, apparently, is what many millions of us believe or used to believe.

This is a fallacy that has scarred the pages of history for centuries. Proud and free peoples have allowed themselves to become enslaved, and nations have eventually collapsed, because of that philosophy. The people said, in effect, to those who governed them: "Solve all our problems with laws." They turned over to government great and oppressive powers of action and decision.

Endless books and tracts have been written about this. Some of the best were written long ago. In 1850, for example, a French economist, statesman and author named Frederic Bastiat published a pamphlet called The Law. It is more than a century old now, but the truths it expresses will retain their full validity for centuries to come. Here is an excerpt from it: "Since the law organizes justice, the socialists ask why the law should not also organize labor, education, and religion.

"Why should not the law be used for these purposes? Because it could not organize labor, education, and religion without destroying justice. We must remember that law is force, and that, consequently, the proper functions of the law cannot lawfully extend beyond the proper function of force. . . .

"When the law, by means of its necessary agent, force, imposes upon men a regulation of labor, a method or a subject of education, a religious faith or creed . . . it substitutes the will of the legislator for their own will; the initiative of the legislator for their own initiatives. When this happens, the people no longer need to discuss, to compare, to plan ahead; the law does all this for them. Intelligence becomes a useless prop for the people; they cease to be men; they lose their personality, their liberty, their property."

That is the situation we face today. We are lucky—we still have the time and the resources to save and strengthen our freedoms and to assert again the great principle that the people are the masters, not the servants, of their government. We can turn our backs on the false and deadly concept of the all-powerful state. It will call for will power. It will hurt individuals, cities, states and groups which have been getting easy money from the public till. But the hurts will be as nothing compared to the gains in being free from political dictation.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES
That a more spiritual concept of communion results in a purification of the affections and a deeper consecration to God and His Christ, will be explained in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 11. The title of the Lesson-Sermon will be SACRAMENT.

The Golden Text is from I Corinthians (10: 16) "The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?"

Bible selections (King James Version) in the Lesson-Sermon include:

"The bread of God is he which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life unto the world. . . . This is that bread which came down from heaven: not as your fathers did eat manna, and are dead: he that eateth of this bread shall live forever." (John 6: 33, 58).

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:

"Are all who eat bread and drink wine in memory of Jesus willing truly to drink his cup, take his cross, and leave all for the Christ-principle? Then why ascribe this inspiration to a dead rite, instead of showing, by casting out error and making the body 'holy, acceptable unto God,' that Truth has come to the understanding? . . . If all who seek his commemoration through material symbols will take up the cross, heal the sick, cast out evils, and preach Christ, or Truth, to the poor,—the receptive thought,—they will bring in the millennium." (pp. 33, 34).

WHAT ABOUT SWINE INFLUENZA?

Q: How serious a problem is swine flu?

A: It doesn't actually kill many swine but it takes a tremendous financial toll each year. Affected pigs go off feed, losing up to 15 pounds. Also, swine flu victims are easier prey to cholera, enteritis and similar diseases.

Q: How does it act?

A: Hogs run a temperature, have a deep cough, tend to pile up, lose appetite, and become weak.

Q: What causes swine flu?

A: Both a germ and a virus, highly contagious. Sudden changes of weather, poorly-ventilated or draughty quarters, and cold rainy spells seem to make hogs more susceptible.

Q: If a flu outbreak starts, what should be done?

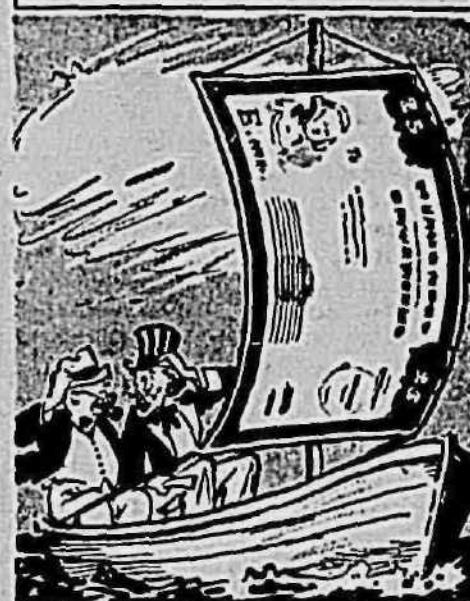

A: Have the trouble diagnosed immediately, so proper nursing and other treatment can be started. Move well pigs away from the sick ones.

Q: What about prevention?

A: Keep swine away from old straw stacks, where flu infection is often picked up. Be sure hogs have good shelter, with good bedding, proper light and ventilation. If new hogs are bought, isolate them for a week before allowing them to mix with the home herd.

Test of Faith

EVERY one who has carefully studied the "Sermon on the Mount" as we find it in Matthew, has run into a peculiar feature of it. The first two chapters (Matt. 5 and 6) move right along in logical fashion, one thought leading into the next, to a climax at the end of chapter 6. But chapter 7 seems to launch out in all directions. The sentences or topics do not follow a single thread of thought. The chapter is very hard to outline. There are various explanations of this. One is that in this chapter we have what might be called the discussion period or forum following the sermon. The various short paragraphs may be explained as being answers Jesus gave to questions which are not recorded. However that may be, we may select verses 12, and 15-27, and see how they answer four very natural questions which Jesus' teaching (especially in Matt. 5 and 6) would raise.

Bible in a Nutshell

Some one might ask: "Can't you make your teaching simpler and plainer? Could you put the whole thing in a nutshell?" So Jesus gives the Golden Rule (7:12), a single sentence that has embarrassed theologians and plain Christians alike. Jesus offers this as a kind of summary of the Bible, for in his time the Bible had four "Old Testament" was customarily called "The Law and the Prophets." This bothers the theologians because it always scandalizes a scholar to have everything put into one sentence, and besides, theologians are accustomed to finding a great deal more in the Old Testament than the Golden Rule. It loathes the common everyday Christian because when he looks at this sentence, he knows how right Mark Twain was: "It's not what I don't understand in the Bible that disturbs me; it's what I do understand."

How Can You Tell?

Another question: How do we know you are teaching the truth? How can we tell you from a false prophet? Jesus gives a simple answer: You can tell a tree from its fruits. People who criticize Christianity should keep this point in mind. There is a great deal in "Christianendom" which is not good. But Christendom is not Christianity. Not even the church is Christianity. Anything in the church that ought not to be there, we must set down against the account of the church, not against Christ. If the church is weak and sinful it is because and so far as she has failed to follow Jesus, not because she has followed him. The fruits of Christ of his heart, his spirit, his teachings—these are good fruit. And if any one is disposed to doubt that, let him fairly answer this question: Where would you rather live, in a community in which the citizens were strangely like Jesus, or one in which they were just the opposite?

Is Not Faith Enough?

Another question: Isn't a single act of faith enough? If I believe what I ought to believe, and if I honor Christ as Lord, isn't that enough to make me a Christian? Jesus offers a test of faith, as if in answer to some such question. It isn't just believing; it isn't paying honor to the name of Christ; it isn't preaching in his name, it is not even performing miracles. The question that will be asked at the Day of Judgment is: Did you do the will of God?

Will It Work?

One more question: Your teaching sounds interesting and is idealistic and all that, but is it meant for this world? Will it work? Jesus quite emphatically claims for his teachings an absolutely practical value. They are not for some Never-never Land, they are not for some other time, some other life. They are not some radical upside-down topsy-turvy mess of peculiar notions. They are the bedrock of a life that will endure through storms. Do you want to find out whether these teachings and ideals of Jesus will work? He invites one and all to build their house of life upon them. He does not promise at any time that those who live by his teachings will be free from trouble, sorrow, opposition, tragedy. Storms come to all houses alike. What he does promise is that the life built here shall not fall.

IN THAT CASE

A Republican candidate, in a house-to-house canvass, was trying to persuade a voter to ballot for that ticket.

"No," said the voter, "my father was a Democrat, and so was my grandfather, and I won't vote anything but the Democratic ticket."

"That's no argument," said the candidate, "suppose your father and your grandmother had been horse thieves; would that make you a horse thief?"

"No," came the answer, "I suppose in that case I'd be a Republican."

He'll Make Out

A young officer at the front wrote home to his father: "Dear Father: Kindly send me $50 at once; I lost another leg in a stiff engagement and am in the hospital without means."

Some Rooms in High School New Addition Unused, Lacking Heat

Disappointments continued this year in the efforts of the high school to occupy its new addition. While the office and one class moved into the new building, other moving was prevented because of lack of heat.

Engineers and architects went in to a huddle this week trying to find out why heat was not carried into certain parts of the new building, especially the second floor. It is believed that a stronger motor will be sufficient to blow the hot air to the various rooms before it becomes cool.

Work in the auditorium continues slowly.

World's newest V8 powers BUICK'S GREATEST CARS IN 50 GREAT YEARS

Television treat—the BUICK CIRCUS HOUR—every fourth Tuesday.

BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

On Display January 9TH

LAKELAND BUICK - Highway 12 - Fox Lake, Illinois

HERE you see pictured the Golden Anniversary ROADMASTER—engineered, styled, powered and bodied to be fully worthy of its paragon role in this fiftieth year of Buick building.

A quick listing of simple facts will reveal just cause for celebration.

- ★ It has the world's newest V8 engine. Vertical valves; 12-volt electrical system; 180 pounds lighter; entire engine is so compact, a new, more maneuverable chassis has been built around it.
- ★ It has 188 Fireball horsepower. A new Buick record; engine horsepower per pound increased 40%.
- ★ It has a compression ratio of 8.5 to 1. Highest compression on the American scene today; bettered fuel economy.
- ★ It has a dynamic-flow muffler. For the first time in automotive history, a muffler with zero power loss.
- ★ It has a new Twin-Turbine Dynaflo Drive. Now adds far swifter, quieter, more efficient getaway to infinite smoothness at all speed ranges.
- ★ It has new braking power. Most powerful braking action of any Buick in fifty years; plus the new ease of Power Brakes, optional at extra cost.
- ★ It has a still finer ride. The softest, steadiest, most buoyantly level ride that Buick's advanced engineering has yet produced.

It has, also, wondrous handling ease, with Power Steering as standard equipment. It has superb comfort. It has sumptuous fabrics and tailoring. And its acoustics are so thoroughly mastered that it may well be one of the world's most quiet cars.

But no listing of facts can do true justice to this phenomenal automobile, or to its brilliant brothers, the 1953 SUPERS and SPECIALS.

And no words can really tell you the beauty you see, the comfort you feel, the excitement you experience—when you look at and drive any one of these big, beautiful, bounteous Buicks for 1953.

Will you come in and see for yourself that these are, in simple truth, Buick's greatest cars in five brilliant decades?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

SHORT STORY

Boot Booty

By Bert Chapman

LYNN COBURN slammed the door of his dilapidated shack with a bang and set down dejectedly in the board bottom chair. Just then, Lynn was full of life and ambition. This winter his heart was set on running a trap line here in the bottom lands of Waukegan River. But that had been a week ago when Lynn had the last trap in his line and walked with the swagger of an old trapper back to his shack. Then for three days in a row he ran the line and had only one small beaver.

Lynn sat there in his shack, blue, and downhearted, he knew that the gentle breeze had increased to a savage howl.

He built a fire in the rusty iron stove and put the coffee pot on. By the time the wind was blowing a regular gale.

Suddenly as Lynn was about to himself a cup of coffee, some-thing banged heavily on the door, without waiting to be let in, the door burst open and two roughly dressed strangers stumbled into the shack. The larger of the two smiled. "Hi, Ho! Kid," he said as he poured the water from his back.

The door burst open and two roughly dressed strangers stumbled into the room.

"A damn brat!" snarled the smaller man. "What you doing in these hills kid?"

"I'm trapping, Mister. And I'm a kid. I'm sixteen years old."

"Where," snarled the big man. "I want to know where you were when I was sixteen."

"You see," continued the big man, "I was a trapper too, son. You can't mind us helling up with you this blizzard blow over."

"Sure don't," Lynn said hastily. "You see," continued the big man, "We got a cabin 'bout a mile further up. We'll move on in a few days."

"Move on, hell!" snarled the smaller man. "We'll stay as long as this brat's grab holds out. So get busy and sling out some-thing to eat kid."

Soon Lynn had beans, corn-cakes and coffee on the table, then he called to the strangers to "Come and get it."

"Get a mint," growled the shorter man as Lynn was about to seat himself at the table. "Once a day is enough for a kid your age to eat."

LYNN walked to the window and looked out. Sleet and rain had changed to blizzing snow.

Lynn turned and watched the two men who sat at his table. They ate wolfishly. Suddenly he had an idea, but he'd have to hurry. Outside the snow had drifted almost to the window sill.

Again he turned and looked at the men. He looked at their gun belts thrown carelessly on the bench near the wall. Then at the door. The latch string hung inside. He measured the distance. Then suddenly swooping low he swept up an awkward bundle and raced wildly from the house.

As Lynn hit the storm no shots followed him, he wondered about this. But before he had gone fifty yards he began to realize his folly. In the blinding snow travel on foot was almost impossible. He was about to turn back when suddenly from higher up he caught the glimpse of horsemen. They saw him too. A moment later he was surrounded by the Sheriff and his posse.

"Lynn Coburn," bellowed the Sheriff. "We thought you was one of them bandits."

"Bandits?" cried Lynn. "Headed for these hills? I'll bet that's them down there in the cabin." Quickly Lynn told the Sheriff his story. "Go on and get them Sheriff, but watch out, they're heavily armed."

"If the report is true that's been coming up the line, they're out of ammunition," roared the lawman.

"That's why they didn't shoot at me then," cried Lynn, as he raced with the posse back toward the cabin. "But wait Sheriff. Look here. They can't go far in this storm without these."

The Sheriff stopped and looked with amazement at the bundle of wet shirts and boots Lyness had dropped in the snow. Then he glanced toward the cabin where two tough, half clad outlaws stood raging in their stocking feet.

"They're a two thousand dollar reward for these homies Lynn," bellowed the lawman.

1953 BUICK—NEW POWER, PERFORMANCE, STYLING

Buick introduces for 1953 a Golden Anniversary line of cars with outstanding engineering developments which include the world's newest V-8 engine and an advanced Dynaflo transmission. Pictured above is the two-door, six-passenger Riviera in the Super Series, most popular hard-top in the Buick line. Its new engine, leader of all V-8s, turns up 170 horsepower with a compression ratio of 9.5 to 1. The new Twin Turbine Dynaflo gives it vastly improved performance and greater economy with no sacrifice of Buick's completely smooth acceleration. It has a re-styled front end incorporating a sturdier grille, two-piece bumper, and a futuristic headlight arrangement. A new alligator-type hood, long-flowing body lines, new moldings and ventports, and horizontal rear fenders with bullet-shaped tail lights, give the car an ultra-modern, sleek appearance. The interior features fresh new colors and tasteful trim. Its wheel-base is 121 1/2 inches and offered as optional equipment are wire wheel covers and power steering.

FLINT, MICH.—Buick today presented its 1953 Golden Anniversary line of cars, featuring a high compression, valve-in-head V-8 engine of new design in both the Roadmaster and Super Series, a new Twin Turbine Dynaflo that greatly improves performance and economy, and fresh new styling inside and out.

The new engine, which develops 188 horsepower in the Roadmaster and 170 in the Super, is of the 90-degree "V" type with a compression ratio of 9.5-to-1, the highest in the industry.

Buick's power steering, which proved so popular last year, has been made standard equipment on the 1953 Roadmaster and is offered as an option on the Super and Special.

Power brakes, which take 75 per cent of the effort out of braking, are offered as optional equipment on the Roadmaster.

New styling features include a new front end, new headlights modeled after those on the Buick's famed XP-300, new rear fenders and interior trim combinations unequalled for beauty and luxury.

Buick's generous-sized bodies continue to be featured in 1953. They offer the maximum roominess and comfort available in the industry.

"We have made more important styling and engineering changes in the 1953 Buick than in any model we have produced in the last 25 years," said Ivan L. Wiles, general manager of Buick and vice president of General Motors. "Our new engine and new Twin Turbine Dynaflo, coupled with our many styling improvements, make the 1953 Buick the newest car on the market today, and the most outstanding value we have ever offered the public."

Buick's 1953 Special Series is powered by the time-proven F-263 Fireball straight eight engine with stepped up horsepower and compression ratio. The improvements in the straight eight engine, plus the new Twin Turbine Dynaflo, make the Special the outstanding performer in its class.

The 1953 Buick line comes in 12 different body styles, including the Skylark sports car which will be produced in limited quantities. The wheelbase of all Roadmaster models has been reduced 4 1/2 inches for easier handling and parking. The wheelbase on the four-door Roadmaster sedan has been reduced from 130.2 inches to 125.5 inches, and on the two-door Roadmaster it has been reduced from 128.2 inches to 121.5 inches.

From a styling standpoint the new 1953 Buicks are new inside and out. A new and wider grille provides better cooling for the engine and gives the car a lower look. The top line of the hood has been extended forward to give a bolder appearance to the front profile. The headlights are housed in a new bezel patterned after the XP-300, and parking and directional signal lights have been incorporated into the headlight bezel.

The hub of the newly-designed steering wheel is decorated with a red, white and blue Golden Anniversary medallion with a gold replica of a 1903 Buick embossed upon it.

Sweepers and rocker panel moldings are continued on all models. The rear windows are of the one-piece wrap-around type with no posts to obstruct the driver's vision.

Buick's V-8 engine has a piston displacement of 332 cubic inches in both the Roadmaster and Super Series. The new Twin Turbine Dynaflo takes hold with a more solid feel than its predecessor because torque multiplication has been increased, yet it retains the same smoothness of operation that has distinguished Dynaflo from other automatic transmissions. Acceleration is faster and quieter.

Power brakes, which are optional on the Roadmaster, give the driver toe-tip braking for any stop. A special safety feature permits direct braking action in case the vacuum which provides the power is lost.

World's newest V8 powers BUICK'S GREATEST CARS IN 50 GREAT YEARS

Television treat—the BUICK CIRCUS HOUR—every fourth Tuesday.

BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

On Display January 9TH

LAKELAND BUICK - Highway 12 - Fox Lake, Illinois

HERE you see pictured the Golden Anniversary ROADMASTER—engineered, styled, powered and bodied to be fully worthy of its paragon role in this fiftieth year of Buick building.

A quick listing of simple facts will reveal just cause for celebration.

- ★ It has the world's newest V8 engine. Vertical valves; 12-volt electrical system; 180 pounds lighter; entire engine is so compact, a new, more maneuverable chassis has been built around it.
- ★ It has 188 Fireball horsepower. A new Buick record; engine horsepower per pound increased 40%.
- ★ It has a compression ratio of 8.5 to 1. Highest compression on the American scene today; bettered fuel economy.
- ★ It has a dynamic-flow muffler. For the first time in automotive history, a muffler with zero power loss.
- ★ It has a new Twin-Turbine Dynaflo Drive. Now adds far swifter, quieter, more efficient getaway to infinite smoothness at all speed ranges.
- ★ It has new braking power. Most powerful braking action of any Buick in fifty years; plus the new ease of Power Brakes, optional at extra cost.
- ★ It has a still finer ride. The softest, steadiest, most buoyantly level ride that Buick's advanced engineering has yet produced.

It has, also, wondrous handling ease, with Power Steering as standard equipment. It has superb comfort. It has sumptuous fabrics and tailoring. And its acoustics are so thoroughly mastered that it may well be one of the world's most quiet cars.

But no listing of facts can do true justice to this phenomenal automobile, or to its brilliant brothers, the 1953 SUPERS and SPECIALS.

And no words can really tell you the beauty you see, the comfort you feel, the excitement you experience—when you look at and drive any one of these big, beautiful, bounteous Buicks for 1953.

Will you come in and see for yourself that these are, in simple truth, Buick's greatest cars in five brilliant decades?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

SHORT STORY

Boot Booty

By Bert Chapman

LYNN COBURN slammed the door of his dilapidated shack with a bang and set down dejectedly in the board bottom chair. Just then, Lynn was full of life and ambition. This winter his heart was running a trap line here in the bottom lands of Waukegan River. But that had been a week ago when Lynn had only one small beaver.

Lynn sat there in his shack, blue, and downhearted, he knew that the gentle breeze had increased to a savage howl. He built a fire in the rusty iron stove and put the coffee pot on. By the time the wind was blowing a regular gale.

Suddenly as Lynn was about to himself a cup of coffee, something banged heavily on the door, without waiting to be let in, the door burst open and two roughly dressed strangers stumbled into the room. The larger of the two smiled. "Ho! Kid," he said as he poured the water from his back.

The door burst open and two roughly dressed strangers stumbled into the room.

"A damn brat!" snarled the taller man. "What you doing in these hills kid?" "I'm trapping, Mister. And I'm a kid. I'm sixteen years old." "Shore," smiled the big man. "I was a man when I was sixteen. Tell we're trappers too, son. You ain't mind us holing up with you in this blizzard blow over?" "Sure don't," Lynn said hastily. "You see," continued the big man. "We got a cabin 'bout a mile farther up. We'll move on in a few days."

"Move on, hell!" snarled the small man. "We'll stay as long as this brat's grub holds out. So get busy and sling out something to eat kid."

Soon Lynn had beans, corn cakes and coffee on the table, then he called to the strangers to "Come and get it."

"Just a minute," growled the short man as Lynn was about to seat himself at the table. "Once a day is enough for a kid your age to eat."

Lynn walked to the window and looked out. Sleet and rain had changed to blizzing snow.

Lynn turned and watched the two men who sat at his table. They ate wolfishly. Suddenly he had an idea, but he'd have to hurry. Outside the snow had drifted almost to the window sill.

Again he turned and looked at the men. He looked at their gun belts thrown carelessly on the bench near the wall. Then at the door. The latch string hung inside. He measured the distance. Then suddenly swooping low he swept up an awkward bundle and raced wildly from the house.

As Lynn hit the storm no shots followed him, he wondered about this. But before he had gone fifty yards he began to realize his folly. In the blizzing snow travel on foot was almost impossible. He was about to turn back when suddenly from higher up he caught the glimpse of horsemen. They saw him too. A moment later he was surrounded by the Sheriff and his posse.

"Lynn Coburn!" bellowed the Sheriff. "We thought you was one of them bandits." "Bandits?" cried Lynn. "Heeded for these hills? I'll bet that's them down there in the cabin." Quickly Lynn told the Sheriff his story. "Go on and get them Sheriff, but watch out, they're heavily armed."

"If the report is true that's been coming up the line, they're out of ammunition," roared the lawman. "That's why they didn't shoot at me then," cried Lynn, as he raced with the posse back toward the cabin. "But wait Sheriff. Look here. They can't go far in this storm without these."

1953 BUICK—NEW POWER, PERFORMANCE, STYLING

Buick introduces for 1953 a Golden Anniversary line of cars with outstanding engineering developments which include the world's newest V-8 engine and an advanced Dynaflo transmission. Pictured above is the two-door, six-passenger Riviera in the Super Series, most popular hard-top in the Buick line. Its new engine, leader of all V-8's, turns up 170 horsepower with a compression ratio of 8.5 to 1. The new Twin Turbine Dynaflo gives it vastly improved performance and greater economy with no sacrifice of Buick's completely smooth acceleration. It has a re-styled front end incorporating a sturdier grille, two-piece bumper, and a futuristic headlight arrangement. A new alligator-type hood, long-flowing body lines, new moldings and ventiports, and horizontal rear fenders with bullet-shaped tail lights, give the car an ultra-modern, sleek appearance. The interior features fresh new colors and tasteful trim. Its wheelbase is 131 1/2 inches and offered as optional equipment are wire wheel covers and power steering.

FLINT, MICH.—Buick today presented its 1953 Golden Anniversary line of cars, featuring a high compression, valve-in-head V-8 engine of new design in both the Roadmaster and Super Series, a new Twin Turbine Dynaflo that greatly improves performance and economy, and fresh new styling inside and out.

The new engine, which develops 168 horsepower in the Roadmaster and 170 in the Super, is of the 90-degree "V" type with a compression ratio of 8.5-to-1, the highest in the industry. Buick's power steering, which proved so popular last year, has been made standard equipment on the 1953 Roadmaster and is offered as an option on the Super and Special.

Power brakes, which take 75 per cent of the effort out of braking, are offered as optional equipment on the Roadmaster.

New styling features include a new front end, new headlights modeled after those on the Buick's famed XP-300, new rear fenders and interior trim combinations unequalled for beauty and luxury. Buick's generous-sized bodies continue to be featured in 1953. They offer the maximum roominess and comfort available in the industry.

"We have made more important styling and engineering changes in the 1953 Buick than in any model we have produced in the last 25 years," said Ivan L. Wiles, general manager of Buick and vice president of General Motors. "Our new engine and new Twin Turbine Dynaflo, coupled with our many styling improvements, make the 1953 Buick the newest car on the market today, and the most outstanding value we have ever offered the public."

Buick's 1953 Special Series is powered by the time-proven F-263 Fireball straight eight engine with stepped up horsepower and compression ratio. The improvements in the straight eight engine, plus the new Twin Turbine Dynaflo, make the Special the outstanding performer in its class.

The 1953 Buick line comes in 12 different body styles, including the Skylark sports car which will be produced in limited quantities. The wheelbase of all Roadmaster models has been reduced 4 1/2 inches for easier handling and parking. The wheelbase on the four-door Roadmaster sedan has been reduced from 130.2 inches to 125.5 inches, and on the two-door Roadmaster it has been reduced from 126.2 inches to 121.5 inches.

From a styling standpoint the new 1953 Buicks are new inside and out. A new and wider grille provides better cooling for the engine and gives the car a lower look. The top line of the hood has been extended forward to give a bolder appearance to the front profile. The headlights are housed in a new bezel patterned after the XP-300, and parking and directional signal lights have been incorporated into the headlight bezel.

The hub of the newly-designed steering wheel is decorated with a red, white and blue Golden Anniversary medallion with a gold replica of a 1903 Buick embossed upon it.

Sweepers and rocker panel moldings are continued on all models. The rear windows are of the one-piece wrap-around type with no posts to obstruct the driver's vision.

Buick's V-8 engine has a piston displacement of 332 cubic inches in both the Roadmaster and Super Series. The new Twin Turbine Dynaflo takes hold with a more solid feel than its predecessor because torque multiplication has been increased, yet it retains the same smoothness of operation that has distinguished Dynaflo from other automatic transmissions. Acceleration is faster and quieter.

Power brakes, which are optional on the Roadmaster, give the driver toe-tip braking for any stop. A special safety feature permits direct braking action in case the vacuum which provides the power is lost.

Dollar Signs Replace Names In the Journal

NEW YORK—The Journal of Commerce is the most dehumanized newspaper in the country. This is by design and requires great effort. Human interest, for which every other newspaper strives, sneaks into the Journal only by accident. The publishers' maxim is: "News is what makes the dollar change hands."

The Journal, which observes its 125 anniversary this year, realized its most famous scoop early in World War I with a story of the torpedoing of a British freighter by a German sub in the Indian ocean. The Journal went into great detail.

Hessians and Sackings
More than 2,000 bales of burlap, it noted in the first paragraph, were lost. The shipment it reported, included 40-inch 10½-ounce goods as well as 40-inch, eight-ounce goods. There were "Hessians and sackings." The Journal had the names of the mills which made the burlap and the importers to whom the burlap was consigned. Not a single commercial detail was missing.

In the last paragraph, the Journal reported that this was the first German sub to strike in the Indian Ocean. In the last sentence, the Journal noted that 1,200 lives were lost.

"We would still handle the story the same way," said Dr. H. E. Luedicke, Executive Editor, who has a doctorate in economics. "After all, the burlap is what counts to us."

Covers More Fires
The Journal proudly claims that it covers more fires than any other paper and in doing so supplies all the details—street address, date, names, cause when available, and property damage. All details but one. The Journal never mentions any loss of life, no matter how great, in a fire.

"After all," an executive said, "we're only interested in providing this service for fire insurance companies, not the life insurance people."

Someone once said that nobody reads the Journal unless he has to. The Journal proudly agrees. It believes that the 34,000 daily subscribers of the paper, who pay $30 a year, read it because they have to, as businessmen.

About 209,000 persons read the competitive Wall Street Journal.

SAFETY FIRST

The new "find" was about to be starred in a picture.

One scene was where the girl was to jump from a high cliff into the water.

Upon examining the jumping point and the landing place, the girl ran to the director and said:

"I won't make that jump. I absolutely refuse to do it. There's only a foot of water at the bottom of that cliff."

"That's all right," answered the director, "do you think we want you to drown?"

Can't Eat That

Mother (to little girl who had been sent to the hen house for eggs)—"Well, dear, were there no eggs?"

Little Girl—"No, mummie, only the one the hen uses for a pattern."

APT PRAYER

One day little Flora was taken to have an aching tooth removed. That night, while she was saying her prayers, her mother was surprised to hear her say: "And forgive us our debts as we forgive our dentists."

History Repeats

"Say, dad, remember that story you told me about when you were expelled from college?"

"Yes."

"Well, I was just thinking, dad, how true it is that history repeats itself."

Definitions

Marriage—1. The only life sentence that is suspended by bad behavior. 2. A delusion and a snore. 3. A rest period between romances.

"I didn't mean to do it. I was smiling, and the smile busted."

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

WHAT PRICE FREEDOM?

FREEDOM RODE A HORSE ONE NIGHT WHEN THE REDCOATS WERE COMING, FREEDOM LOADED A MUSKET AT LEXINGTON, WRAPPED ITS BLEEDING FEET IN RAGS AT VALLEY FORGE, SIGNED A HOPEFUL CONTRACT AT PHILADELPHIA—OUR CONSTITUTION.

IN ALL THE 175 YEARS SINCE THEN, IN WAR, IN PEACE, IN GOOD TIMES AND BAD, WE HAVE STRIVEN TO UPHOLD THAT CONTRACT, SOMETIMES AT TERRIBLE COSTS. THERE IS NO CUT-RATE PRICE ON FREEDOM.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" By C. WILSON HARDER

On many Washington calendars, January 20th is ringed with some uncertainty.

The enigma is not so much Eisenhower, but Eisenhower's friends. Some of his appointees are little known, creating a feeling of uncertainty.

For example, while the General was in Korea exposed to danger, a political note was introduced in the government anti-trust suit against DuPont.

Joseph P. Savage, an attorney, appeared in the Chicago Federal Court, asserting he represented the stockholders, told the court that the incoming Attorney General, Herbert Brownell might call off the suit.

Brownell has said he intends to review all cases pending.

The government through the Justice-Department started suit against DuPont in 1949, alleging the $5 billion empire composed of the DuPont Chemical Company with a 23% ownership of General Motors stock, and 18% interest in U. S. Rubber, has conspired to restrain trade.

Career men in the Justice Department headed by W. L. Hotchkiss spent three years preparing the government's case.

Usually, Justice Department career men do not force a case to trial unless they have ample evidence to justify a trial.

But apparent confidence expressed in Federal Court that the new Attorney General will squash the trial causes grave concern over future administration of the anti-trust laws.

Naturally, until all the evidence is in, and a decision reached, no one can say whether or not the DuPont empire is guilty as charged. But opinion prevails that now is the time to decide the issue in open court, without political interference.

Whether or not Brownell stops the trial on taking office on January 20 remains to be seen. But the fact that such a possibility is voiced in a trial court highlights the drive started by the National Federation of Independent Business to remove anti-trust enforcement from politics.

In a recent nationwide poll of independent businessmen, 78% voted for legislation to make appointment of an assistant U. S. Attorney in charge of the anti-trust division permanent, thus removing him from political pressure. In the past ten years, five have been removed from this post.

Here is the issue.

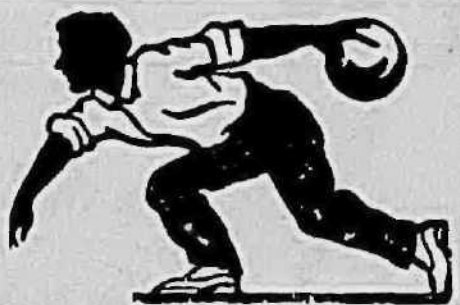

Briefly, it is desired that enforcement of the anti-trust laws be put on the same permanent basis as other Federal laws are enforced by J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI.

There will be a great deal of opposition to this plan.

Concerns found meriting a trial under the anti-trust laws usually have ample means and influence. The easiest way to win is to secure dismissal.

The plan of independent businessmen is quite plain.

It's merely a matter of making it impossible to "fix" a traffic ticket on a high level.

Besides the games, each child present received gifts, candy, chocolate milk, cookies, ice cream and oranges. The children all seemed delighted with their party and gifts and left well filled and loaded down with their precious awards tucked under their arms, with thoughts of the next year and maybe another party.

Four-Door Sedan in New Chevrolet Bel Air Series

The Bel Air four-door sedan is one of four body types with which Chevrolet pioneers a completely new series of passenger cars for 1953. Richness in exterior and interior appointments gives the series a distinction never previously achieved in the Chevrolet market. Increased performance, comfort and convenience are common to the Bel Air and the "One-Fifty" and "Two-Ten" series.

1953 Chevrolet has New Model

Expanded to include a third series of cars, and boasting more significant advances than ever incorporated in a mode in the low-priced field, the widely discussed Chevrolet make their appearance at the R & J Chevrolet sales tomorrow (Friday), January 9.

For the 1953 market bodies have been completely re-designed. All cars have increased power, with special emphasis on a new power train that includes a new engine and improved automatic transmission. In performance, in economy, in driving and riding qualities, exterior and interior appointments, the latest Chevrolet models contribute importantly to automotive progress.

Features of the new cars range throughout the bodies of major interest:

The entirely new series, to be known as the Bel Air and credited with being the most luxurious models in Chevrolet history. To be produced as two- and four-door sedans, a convertible and sport coupe, the Bel Airs are included in the choice of 16 Fisher body types. Other passenger car series are designated as the "Two-Ten" and "One-Fifty."

A new 115-horsepower "Blue Flame" engine and a refined power glide automatic transmission re-engineered for greater operating economy and faster pickup. The so-called "standard" engine also moves up to 108 horsepower, a gain of 17.4 per cent over 1952.

Two Chevrolet "firsts" in the low-price automotive bracket are registered in optional equipment available on all cars. Power steering, which reduces manual effort yet maintains traditional steering safety, makes its debut. The second innovation is the Autronic Eye, an electronic mechanism that automatically lowers headlamp beams for passing along.

Roomier and stronger bodies with greatly expanded visibility. All have curved, one-piece windshields from which the center divider has been eliminated. Other body construction highspots include front swingout door hinges to provide easier entrance; fold-away front seat backs in two-doors; and wrap-around rear windows.

Operating advances cover the automatic choke on all cars, softer, smoother brake action, easier steering, even more reliable starting in damp weather, static-free ignition, softer front and rear springs for improved ride, and higher capacity generator.

Unusual developments in the station wagon field. Three station wagons, one known as the Townsman (eight-passenger in the "Two-Ten" series.

No Faith

"Brethren and sisters, we are gathered together here today to pray for rain," said the preacher. He took his congregation over a little sadly and went on: "But before we begin I'd like to ask you just one question—where are your umbrellas?"
